

Will Israeli Sovereignty Be Extended Over Judea and Samaria?

Avi Abelow

President Trump last night declared that he would not allow Israel to “annex the West Bank.” Some people are angry. Some are extremely disappointed. Personally? I’m not surprised and definitely not worried.

Let’s start with the basics. It’s not the “West Bank.” That’s a term our enemies use, a geographic fiction designed to erase our ancient, undeniable Jewish connection to the land. The correct name is Judea and Samaria, the historic cradle of Jewish civilization, where the majority of the Bible stories took place, where Abraham walked, where our prophets spoke, and where our people lived for thousands of years. The only reason anyone calls it the “West Bank” today is because Jordan illegally occupied the ‘West Bank of the Jordan River’ for 19 years and the world decided to run with the propaganda.

You don’t annex something that’s already yours...

So maybe President Trump was just using the wrong term on purpose? Maybe it was semantics. But more likely, it wasn’t.

Still, I’m not panicking. And that’s because I’m a realist.

Realism means looking beyond headlines and seeing the full picture. President Trump, despite this comment, has been one of the strongest allies Israel has ever had. He moved the U.S. embassy to Jerusalem, recognized our sovereignty over the Golan Heights, pulled out of the disastrous Iran deal, and unapologetically supported Israel’s right to fight this war across the whole Islamonazi Middle East.

But here’s where realism cuts deeper: No matter what any U.S. President says or tries to do, including President Trump, sovereignty over Judea, Samaria, and Gaza is not just inevitable. It’s necessary for Israel and the whole freedom loving world.

Why?

Because Hamas is never going to disarm.

Because the Palestinian Authority is never going to stop funding terrorism or inciting murder.

Because the international community will never prioritize Jewish security over political theater and appeasing their growing Muslim population.

Because the two-state solution was never a solution, just a slogan masking a long war to destroy the Jewish state of Israel.

Hamas has openly declared that October 7th was just the beginning. Their charter still calls for genocide. Their actions, from the massacre of babies to the brutal torture of civilians, prove they are not freedom fighters. They are a death cult. No amount of negotiations, ceasefires, or foreign aid will change that.

And the so-called “moderate” Palestinian Authority? They’re just as complicit. They name schools after terrorists. They pay salaries to murderers sitting in Israeli jails. They’ve never stopped glorifying violence. The PA doesn’t want peace, they want power, and they want it built on the ashes of the Jewish state.

So explain to me: How is Israel supposed to exist with our lands under their control?

We already did that in Gaza. We pulled out in 2005, not one settler left, not one IDF soldier remained, not one grave even remained in the ground. We got 20 years of terror tunnels, rocket barrages, the horrific Oct. 7th massacre of innocents, with this barbaric war raging on with our hostages still held in Gaza terror tunnels. Never again.

Sovereignty is inevitable because the status quo is unsustainable. If we don’t apply Israeli law to Judea and Samaria, and Gaza, someone else will, whether it’s Hamas, the PA, or worse. And when lawlessness reigns, Jewish blood is spilled.

But here’s the most important truth of all: I’m not worried because, as a Jew, I don’t put my faith in world leaders, not even Trump. I put my faith in God.

We are obligated to act, to defend ourselves, to speak the truth, to build, to create facts on the ground, but ultimately, it is God who determines the outcome.

The rebirth of the State of Israel? That wasn’t supposed to happen.

Winning our wars against impossible odds? That wasn’t supposed to happen.

Surviving the Iranian- and Qatari-backed, multi-front genocidal assault that began on October 7th? That wasn’t supposed to happen either.

But it all did. Because God runs the world, and our return to this land is not a modern political story, it’s a divine promise unfolding in real time.

So I choose to be grateful, to President Trump for all he’s done, to Prime Minister Netanyahu, and to God for all He’s doing. And I choose to stay focused, on educating, advocating, and explaining why sovereignty over Judea, Samaria, and yes, Gaza, is the only way to finally end the terror war against us.

Trump introduced his Gaza emigration plan, a rational, humane strategy to give Arabs in these areas the option of leaving, since their booby trapped, terror tunnel homes are no longer. That is the only plan that addresses the reality on the ground. Not fantasy peace accords with terror states. Not empowering the next Mahmoud Abbas or Ismail Haniyeh. All those in this genocidal culture called “Palestine” who support our destruction, live elsewhere, not in Judea, Samaria or Gaza.

So whether it’s under Trump and Netanyahu, or under someone else after them, I know this will happen.

Not a question of if it will happen, but when.

Why am I so sure? Because I'm a realist.

And because I believe in the destiny of the Jewish people in the Land of Israel, all of it.

Judea and Samaria is not a bargaining chip. It is the heart of our home.

And no one will stop us from claiming what is ours.

To conclude, the hard truth, which too many in the West still refuse to acknowledge, is that the ideology driving Hamas, Islamic Jihad, and their backers is not about a border dispute with Israel, it's a 1,400+ year global jihadist movement committed to subjugating and conquering the world.

October 7th was not only an attack on Israel; it was an attack on the values of every freedom-loving society. That's why the loss of land for radical Islamic movements in Judea, Samaria, and Gaza, through Israeli sovereignty, combined with President Trump's own emigration plan, is a necessary step way to uproot this terror infrastructure and protect the entire civilized world from a 1,400-year-old jihadist ideology.

Appeasing that ideology instead of crushing it, and pressuring Israel not to apply sovereignty, is not just bad for Israel. It is disastrous for the United States, for Europe, and for the entire Western world, because it signals weakness and invites more terror, not less.

History has shown us: only moral clarity and decisive action defeat evil, never appeasement.

The Jewish people, in our God given ancestral homeland have that moral clarity. Those who bless us and support us to do what is necessary, will be blessed. Those who curse us and stop us from doing what needs to be done, will be cursed.

Yes, it's that simple. All one has to do is strengthen their faith in the only entity worthy of faith, God.

Onwards to sovereignty and Trump's emigration plan! When? Just wait and see...

Am Yisrael Chai!!!
